

AFTER YOU RETURN

Reunion – Host's Report, etc.

- At the end of the trip talk about getting together for a reunion one to three months after you return home to reminisce, share pictures, memories, etc.
- Reunions can be held in private homes, restaurants or at the Zoo.
- See if anyone volunteers to host the reunion at his/her home. If no one volunteers, it is your responsibility, with the help of the Travel Department, to plan the reunion.
- Complete the Zoo host/escort report and give/mail one copy to Bert DeVries and one copy to Ron Fricke.
- Check with the President of the Zoofari Club to see if he/she would like you to write a short article about your trip for inclusion in the Zoofari Club quarterly newsletter (the Passport).
- When the reunion date is set, you can either contact the passengers to let them know about it, send out invitations that can be computer generated or ask Bert DeVries to do this for you. In the invitation include information with the name of the person who is going to get the RSVP's and his/her phone number and E-mail address.
- Have copies of the group picture and completed journal ready for distribution at the reunion. Mail to those who cannot attend.
